MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION

Purpose

The Georgia Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives is the professional society of chamber executives and staff.

Mission Statement

GACCE exists to provide exceptional services to its members in the areas of professional development, information, and networking opportunities, and to advocate the local Chamber's role in economic and community development.

The focus of GACCE is to assist chamber executives and associate members in becoming more effective in leading their local communities while serving their membership as well.

Membership

Chamber of Commerce executives and staff and those members of business and community organizations, or those persons directly interested in or allied with Chamber of Commerce work in Georgia, are eligible for membership.

Activities

Annual Management Conference

This conference is designed to show chamber executives and associate members new ways to solve management problems, to motivate people and to increase their knowledge in order to become more effective in developing better local communities. Plans for the future are discussed at this meeting as well as the election of new officers.

Leadership Conference

A seminar for chamber executives and top volunteers designed to increase the effectiveness of the local chamber leadership team. This conference covers a variety of topics such as the role of the executive and the chief elected officer, and how to maximize the chamber's effectiveness.

Staff Clinic

Allows chamber staff employees the opportunity to meet and exchange ideas in order to promote and support their communities and the State of Georgia. This clinic provides information relevant to all chamber employees and to the everyday operation of the chamber.

Washington Fly-In

A chance for chamber executives and their volunteer leadership to meet with their elected officials. This is held in conjunction with the Georgia Chamber's Annual Congressional and Staff Appreciation Reception.
